

MARFA
ARMY AIR FIELD
44B
MARFA, TEXAS

Dedication

In dedicating this, our Class Book, we depart from the usual custom of honoring distinguished personages or expressing high ideals, and dedicate it to the men within these covers---the men of 44-B.

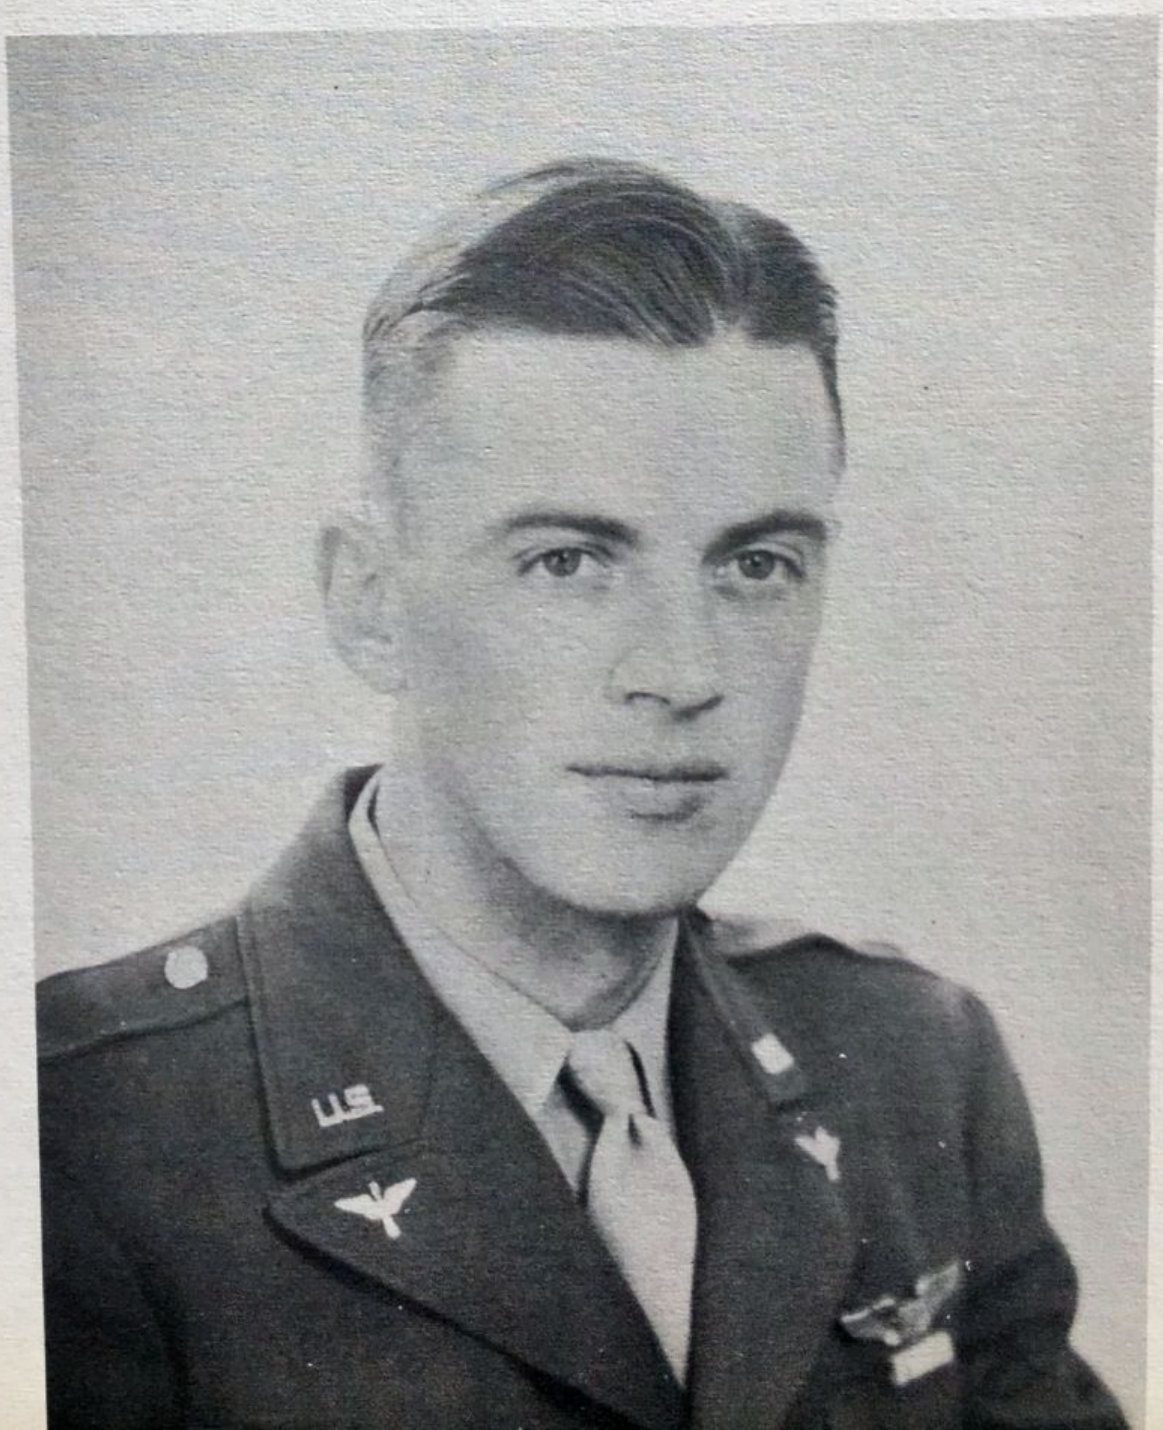

Here are the men who, in a few short months, adapted themselves to an arduous and intensive training program. Here are the men whose fortitude and courage fit them for the job they have to do.

We salute you, men of 44-B, as the newest Pilot Officers in the finest Air Force of the world.

Link

ON LINK TRAINER

There is a LINK between pre-historic man and mankind of today.

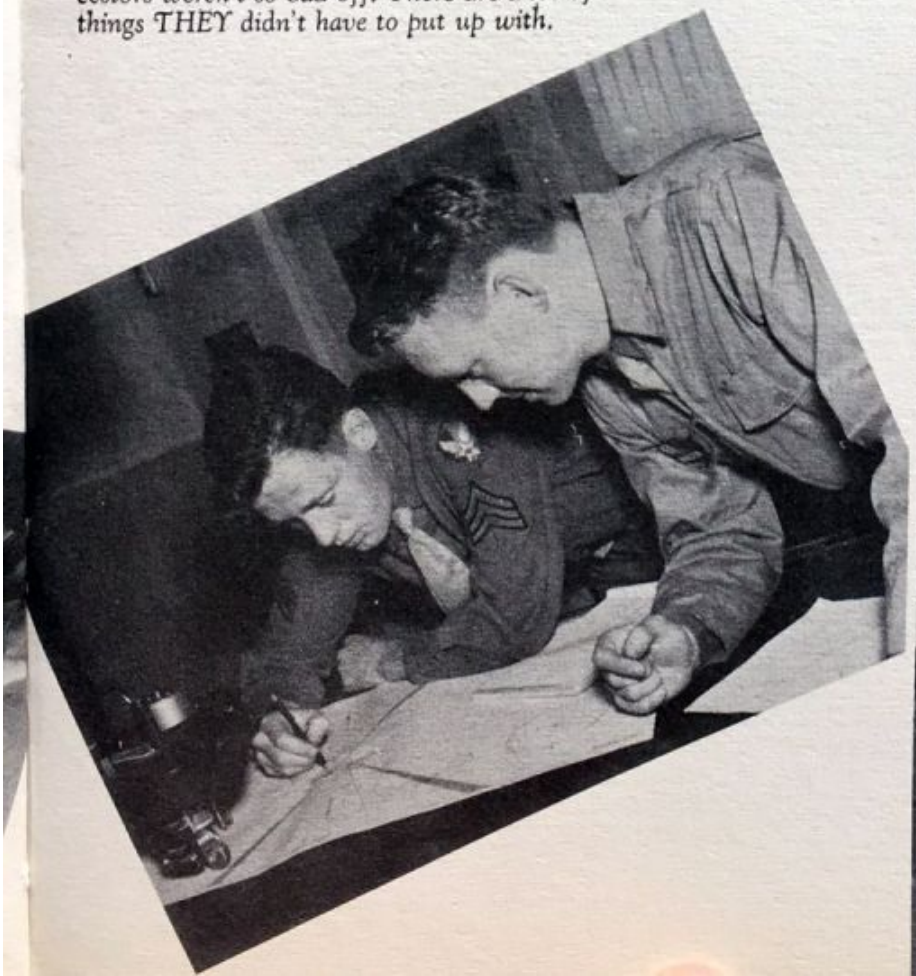

We can believe it! Do you toss, after a night link period, in your sleep, hear beam signals, sweat through orientation problems, spin in on the final approach, and just have trouble in general with altitude and airspeed? Well, friend, there is an answer. Not pills, nor medicine—no—link!

It usually happens that you have things nicely underway, and you are doing a smooth job (something that a Link Operator simply cannot stand). When you hear the telltale swish of air, and the damn thing does a diving turn to the right, you know the awful truth. Then not content to see you just "knock" the problem out, he has to give you "rough air" and probably a 50 mile per hour wind to boot.

Brothers, many a good man has, and is cracking under the strain. When you watch some poor wretch lift the hood and see his wild eyes and disheveled hair, and then watch him descend shakily to the good old terra firma—brothers, you wonder. It's almost enough to make one want to run around, arms hanging, and maybe climb a few trees. Sometimes you wonder—maybe our ancient ancestors weren't so bad off. There are a lot of things THEY didn't have to put up with.

Physical Training

Dear old P. T. How we're going to miss all the nerve-tingling exercises. The hup-tup-threep-fourp, the old command "to the bone breaking position of atten-hupt (rupturing yourself as you go) HOOVE! And the most loved of all "to the supine position." Never let it be said that a Kaydet was ever slow about assuming the supine attitude.

Then to the sight of that ever present conglomeration of wood, dirt and iron, that diabolical device known as an obstacle course. Even now you may hear the low groans of mental agony as the first group leaves to give their all. (The lieutenant was watching.)

All goes well the first half as the starting athletes hit their stride. And I have it on good authority that at least one boy has a stride. And then we round the turn, anxious eyes peering ahead for avenues of escape — elevators, ladders, etc. . . All to no avail as the wall looms larger each second. Suddenly there is a sickening thud as wood resists flesh and the first Kaydet in desperation claws his way over, more thuds, more clawing and more misery as each wave of (and I quote) "Junior Commandos" follows in quick order. The rest of the course is only an organized stagger and with this we must leave. We are finished—our sympathies to those who follow.

War Room

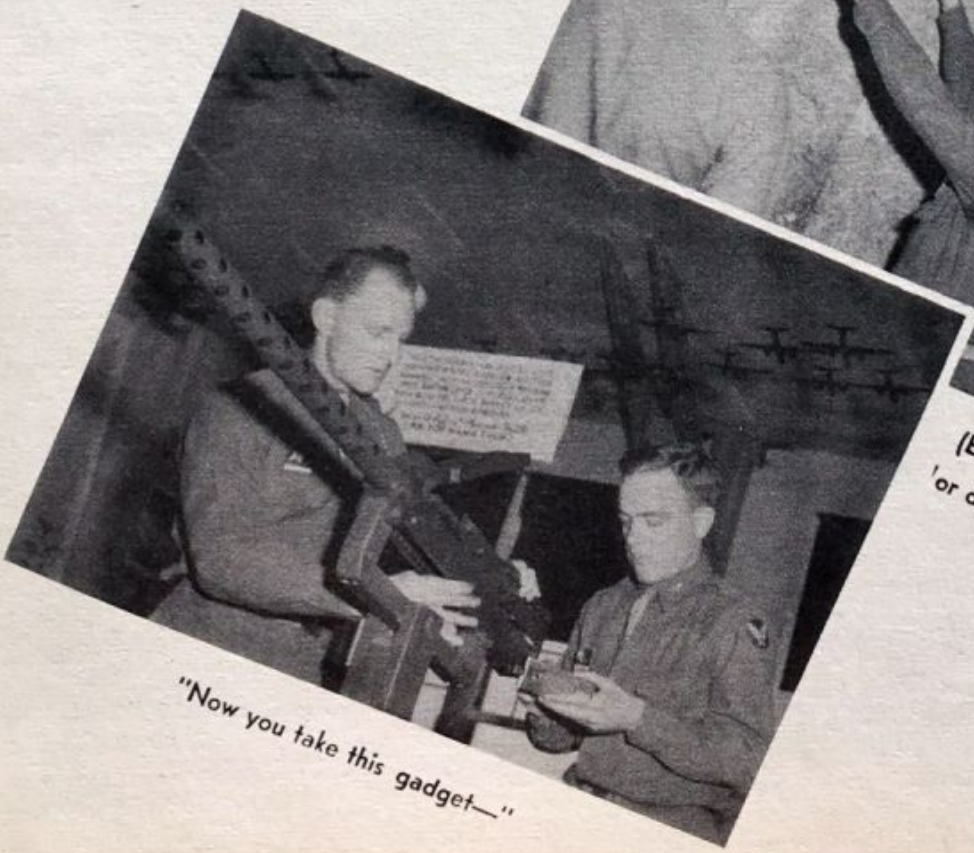

"Whose idea was this?"

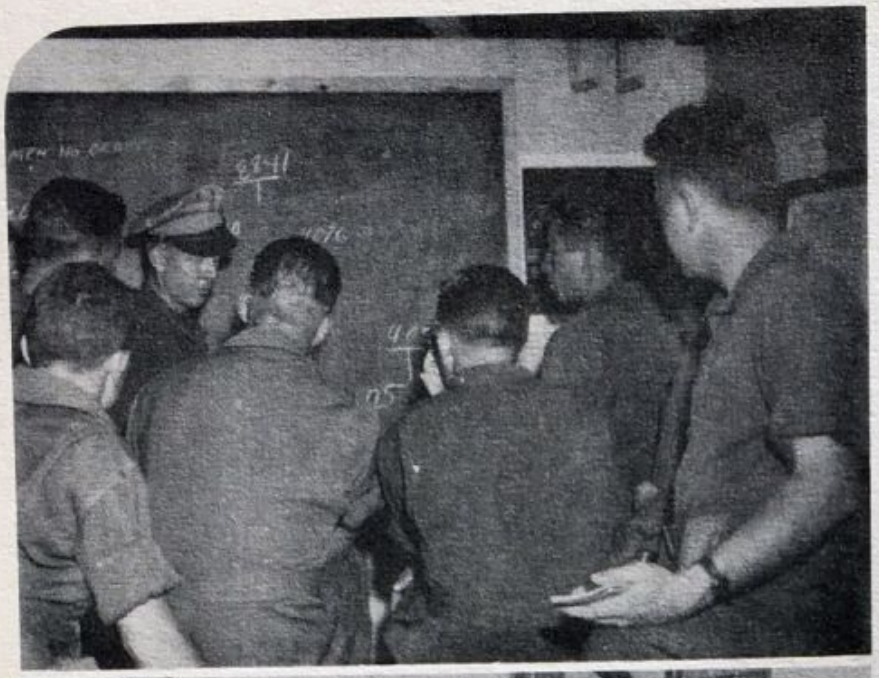

"Put out your cigarette and be a man!"

(Ed. Note—any similarity to persons living or dead purely accidental)

"Now you take this gadget—"

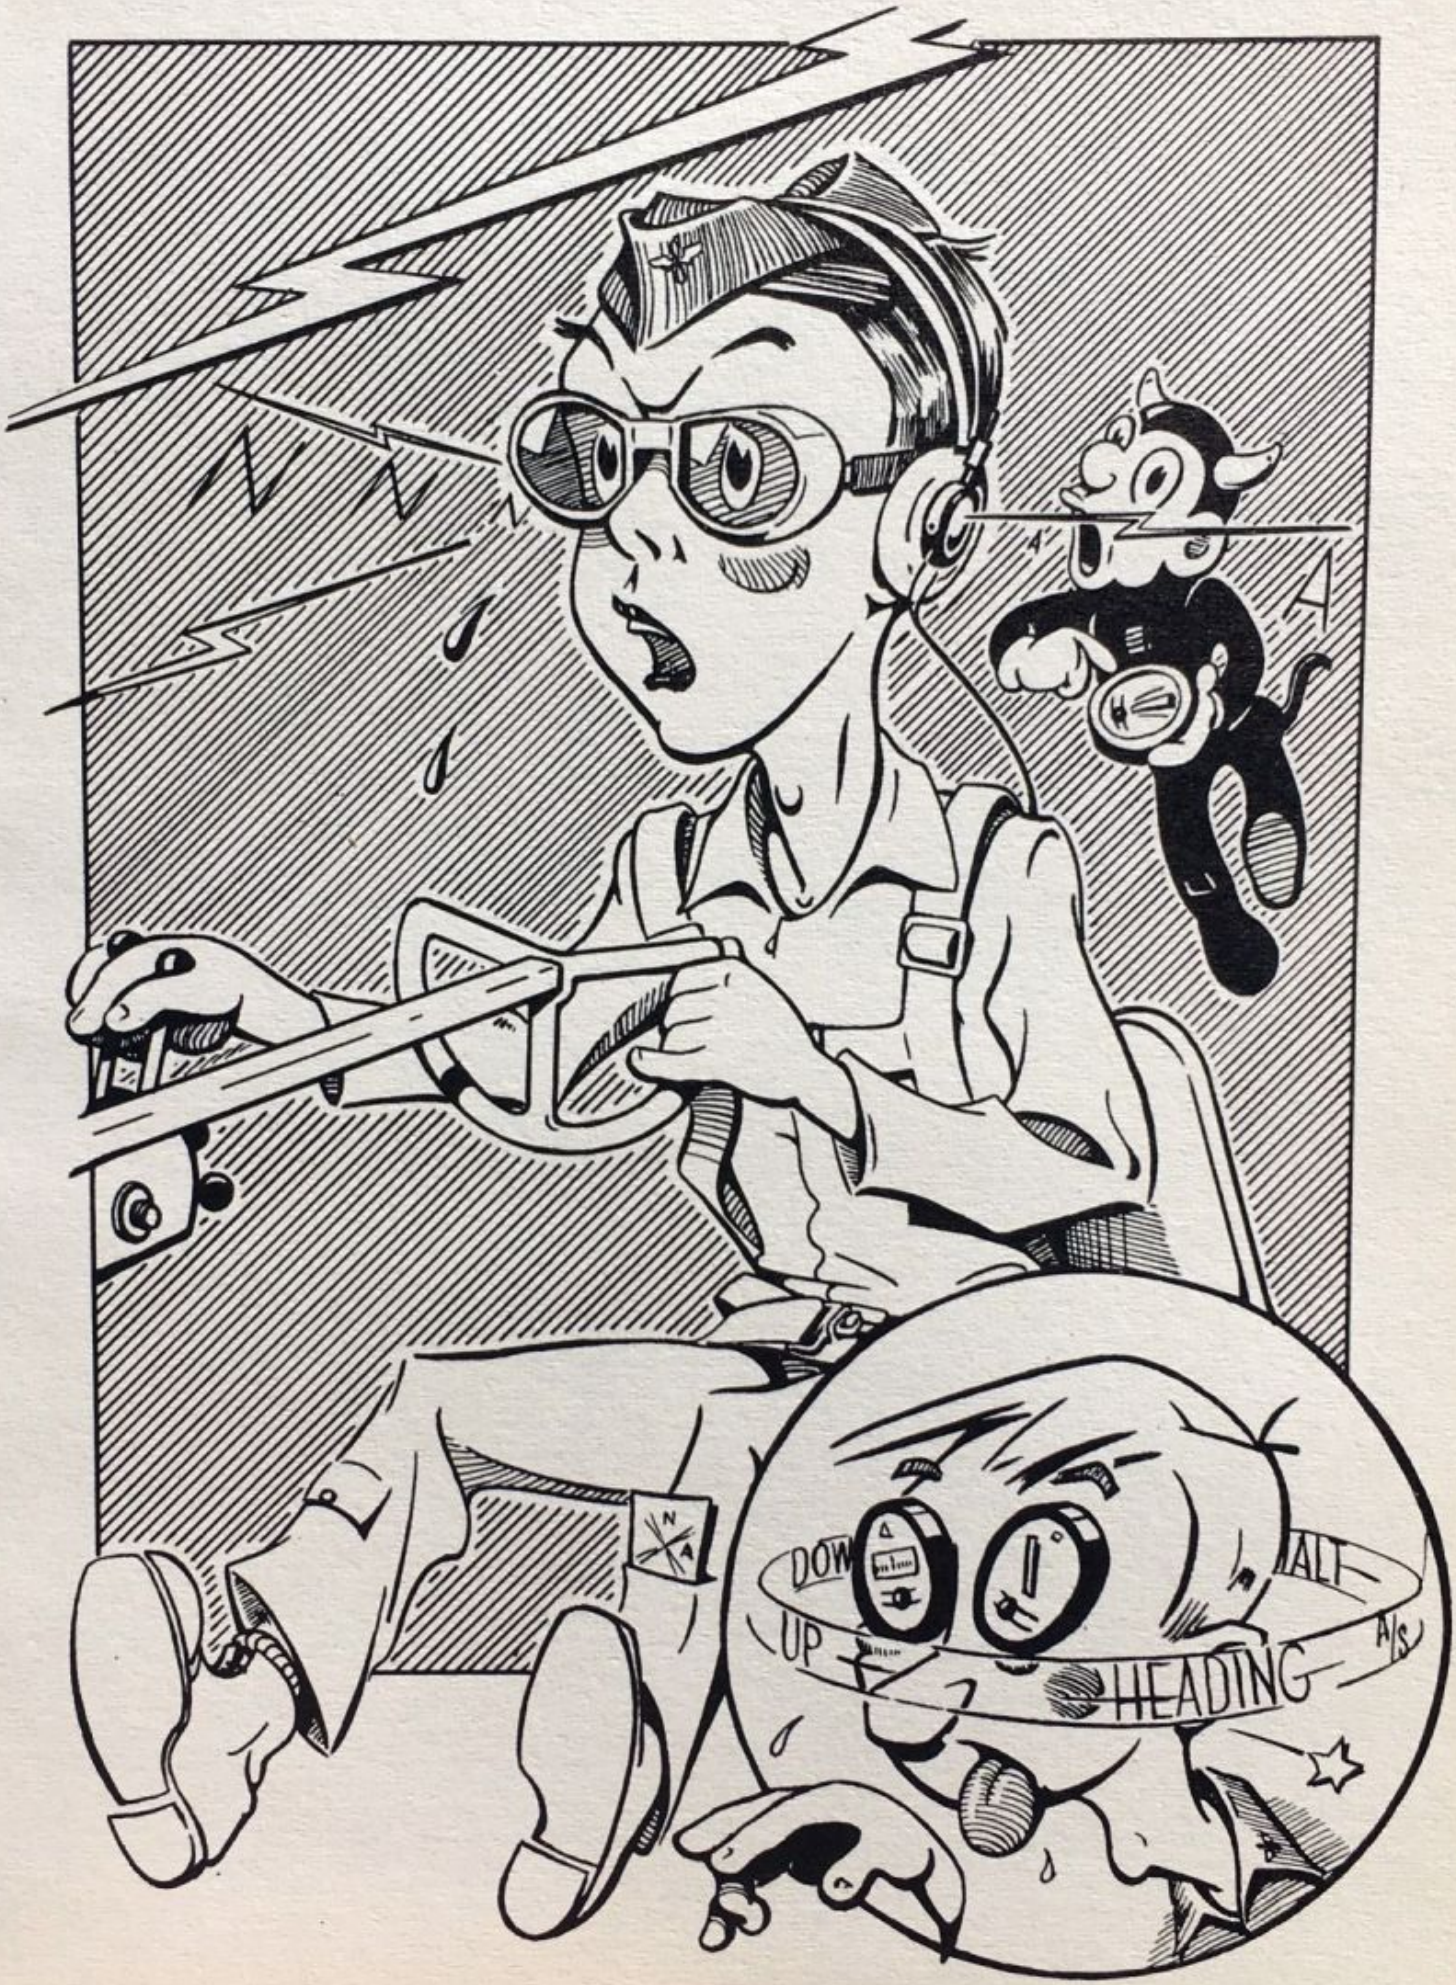

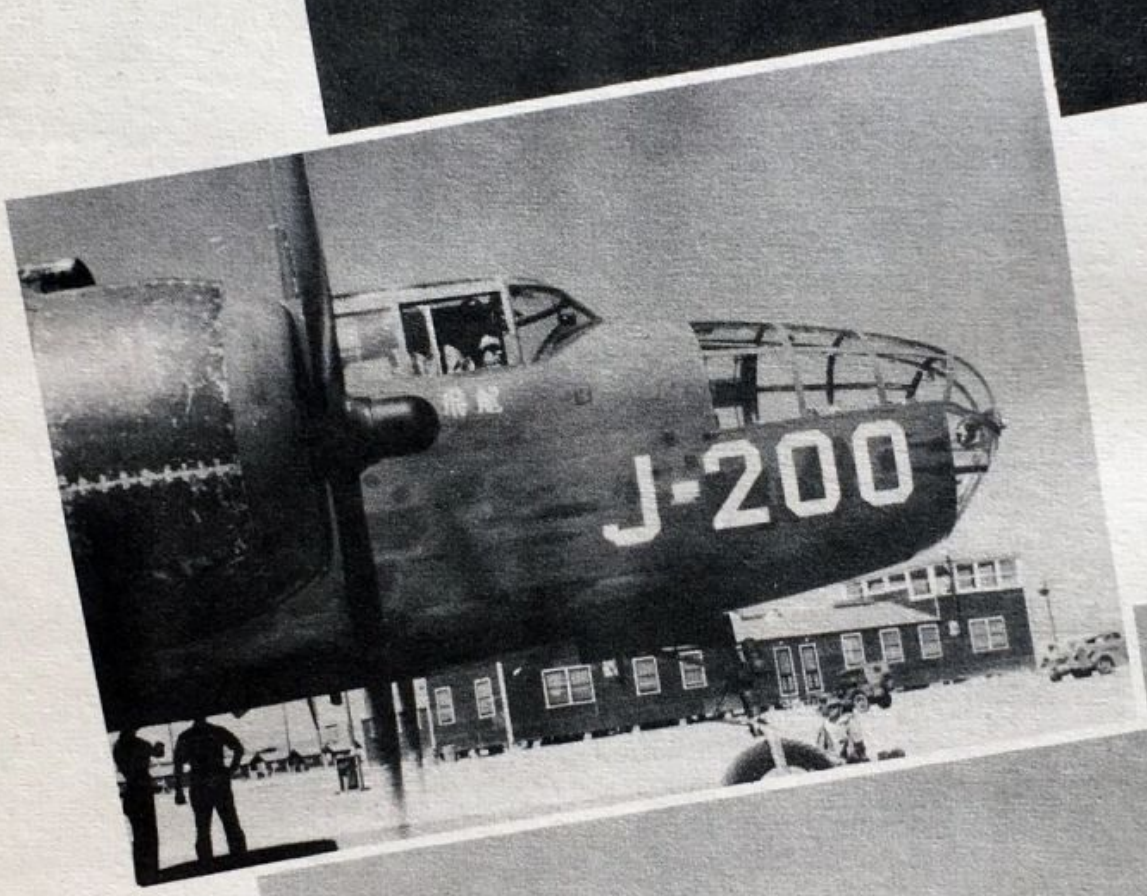

"I'm Lt. Hill, you're going to see a lot of me - - - men!"
